Description

A traditional Irish Cottage, built circa. 1900 with some restoration and renovation. It can sleep up to six. Beautifully situated in a magic location, on an elevation looking down towards the Gweebarra River. Surrounded by trees and a conifer forest to the front, the cottage is well concealed in a truly 'quiet and peaceful location'. Ideal for anglers wishing to take advantage of the river, or those wishing to 'get away from it all'.
