Description

The cottage is a re-creation of a traditional Irish cottage with pine floors and ceilings, the stairs are quite steep, but this would be the norm in old cottages. The bedroom furniture is all pine giving a warm comfortable feel to the cottages. There is an open fire with turf available in addition to oil fired central heating - an immersion heater is available for hot water on warmer summer days.

The outside has a small garden with newly planted shrubs and flowers - still in their infancy, as the cottages are new. There is plenty of space outside for barbeque - outdoor table and chairs are supplied.
